

Enterprise HR Policy Handbook

Employee Reference Guide - Page 1

1. Purpose and Scope

This handbook provides a clear summary of workplace expectations, employee benefits, and HR procedures for all roles. All employees, contractors, and temporary staff are expected to follow these policies while working on company premises.

2. Core Workplace Principles

Employees must act with integrity, professionalism, respect, and accountability in all business interactions. Discrimination, harassment, retaliation, and abusive conduct are prohibited across all offices, digital channels, and work-related activities. Managers are responsible for maintaining inclusive teams and escalating concerns promptly to HR.

3. Employment Standards

Standard working hours are 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM, Monday through Friday, unless a role-specific schedule is approved. Employees are expected to be punctual, maintain accurate attendance records, and notify their manager before the start of a shift. Repeated absenteeism, late arrivals, or failure to follow attendance procedures may result in corrective action.

4. Leave and Time Off

Annual leave: 18 paid days per calendar year.
Sick leave: 10 paid days per calendar year, with medical certification required for absences of three or more consecutive days.
Parental leave, bereavement leave, and unpaid leave may be granted in accordance with local law and company policy.
Leave requests should be submitted through the HR portal at least five working days in advance when practical.

5. Compensation and Benefits

Salary payments are processed monthly and deposited directly into the employee's registered bank account. Employees may be eligible for health insurance, retirement contributions, wellness initiatives, and performance bonuses. Questions related to payroll, deductions, or benefit enrollment should be directed to HR Operations.

6. Code of Conduct

Conflicts of interest must be disclosed immediately. Employees may not accept gifts, favors, or payments that could in

Enterprise HR Policy Handbook

Employee Reference Guide - Page 2

Company property, confidential information, and intellectual property must be protected at all times.

Use of company systems for unlawful, offensive, or unauthorized activity is prohibited.

7. Information Security and Data Privacy

Employees must use strong passwords, enable required multi-factor authentication, and store sensitive files only in approved locations.

Customer, employee, and company data may be accessed only for legitimate business purposes and must not be shared externally.

Any suspected data breach, phishing attempt, or device loss must be reported to IT Security within one hour of discovery.

8. Remote and Hybrid Work

Approved remote employees must maintain a secure, professional workspace and remain reachable during agreed work hours.

Business meetings should be attended on time with appropriate professional conduct whether in person or virtual.

Managers may revise remote work arrangements based on performance, team needs, security requirements, or business priorities.

9. Performance Management

Employees will receive periodic feedback and a formal performance review at least once per year.

Performance ratings may affect compensation changes, promotions, development plans, and eligibility for incentive programs.

Employees are encouraged to work with their manager on measurable goals and professional development objectives.

10. Reporting Concerns

Employees should report workplace concerns, ethics issues, safety hazards, or policy violations to their manager, HR, or the Ethics Hotline.

Retaliation against any employee who raises a good-faith concern or participates in an investigation is strictly prohibited.

11. Disciplinary Action

Policy violations may result in verbal warning, written warning, suspension, loss of access privileges, or termination of employment.

The company reserves the right to investigate misconduct and take immediate action where required to protect people and assets.

12. Employee Acknowledgment

All employees are expected to read, understand, and comply with this handbook and related policies issued by the Human Resources Department.

For questions, contact HR at hr@enterprise.example or extension 2400.

Document version: 1.0 Effective date: April 24, 2026